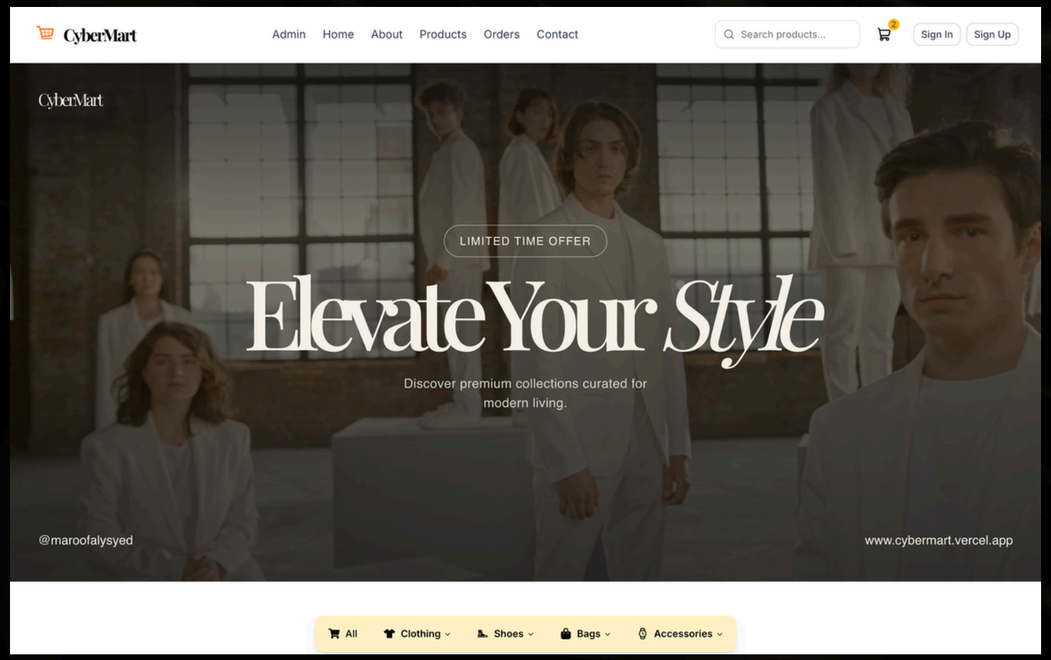
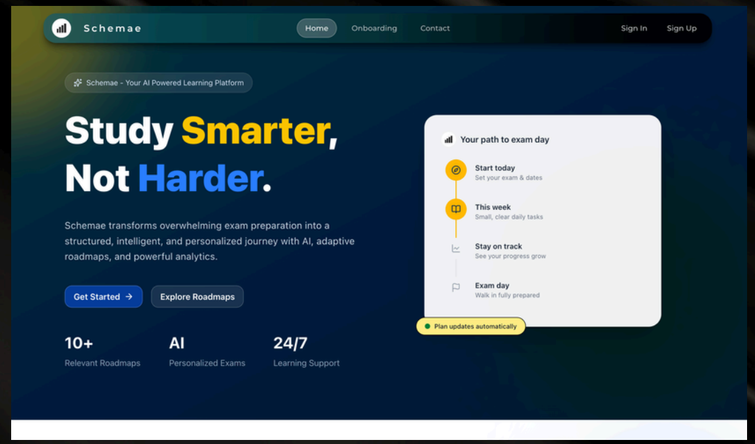
WORK SHOWCASE





Featured Projects

From building Schemae, a SaaS learning platform that brings AI-powered roadmaps, assessments, and progress tracking together, to crafting a portfolio showcase focused on modern UI/UX, and finally developing a complete e-commerce ecosystem with payment integration, customer workflows, product management, and a dedicated admin panel, my projects reflect end-to-end full-stack development.

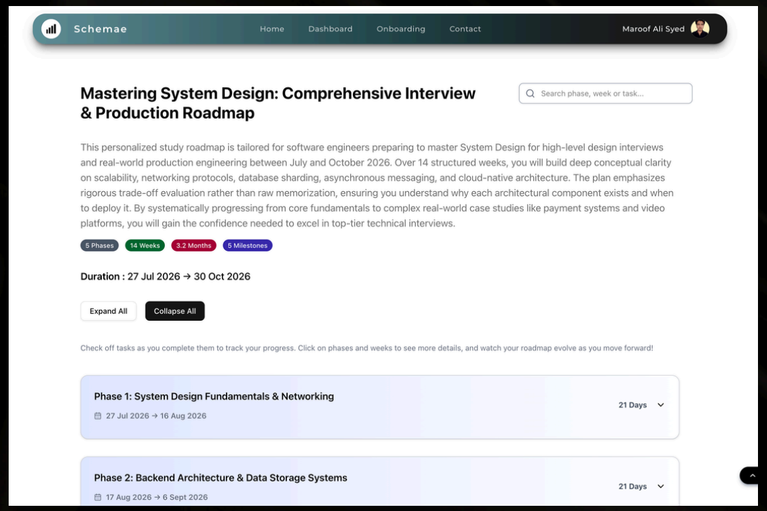
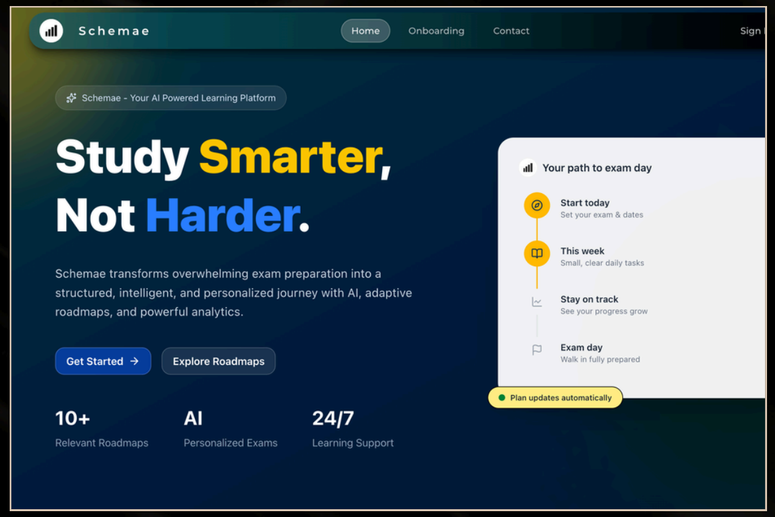
Experience Schemae at : www.schemae.vercel.app

PROJECT 1 : SCHEMAE

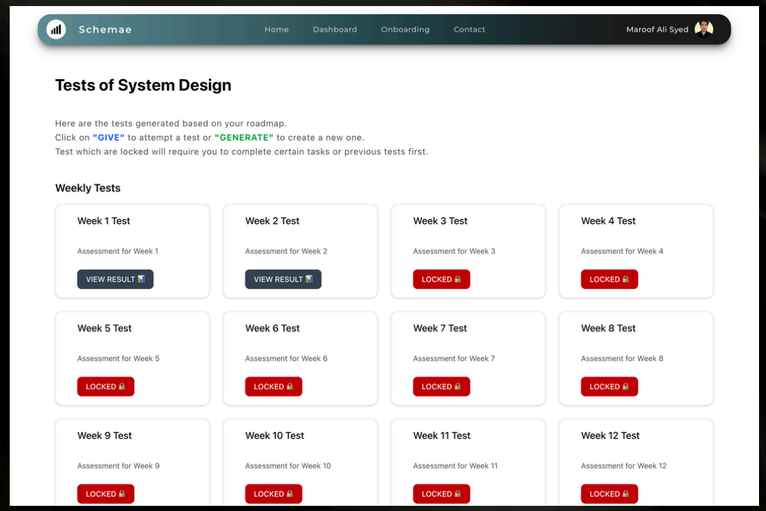
Schemae is a full-stack SaaS learning platform designed to make learning more structured, personalized, and measurable. It combines AI-powered learning roadmaps, assessments, progress tracking, course management, notifications, and analytics into a unified platform. Built with a scalable architecture, Schemae focuses on delivering personalized learning experiences while maintaining secure authentication, role-based access, and efficient data management.



AI-Powered Roadmap : Personalized learning roadmaps dynamically generated by AI based on the learner's goals and progress.



Creative Learning Interface : A modern, interactive home page designed to create an engaging and intuitive learning experience.



AI-Generated Assessments : Intelligent tests generated by AI to evaluate knowledge and reinforce learning across different topics.

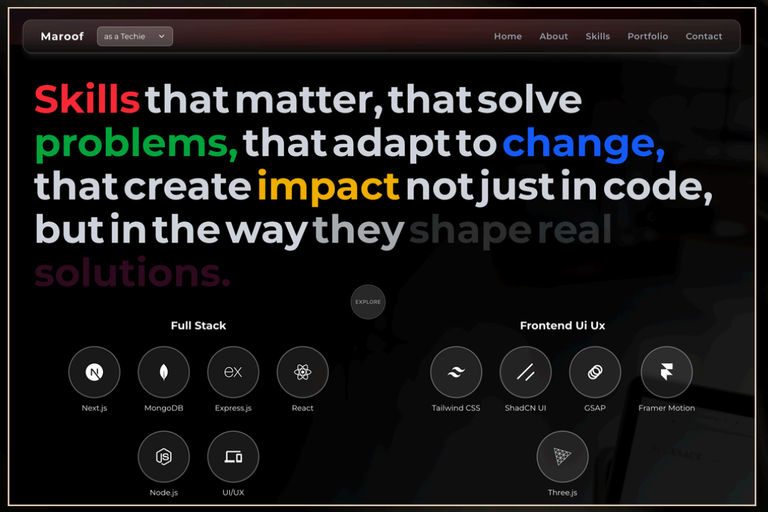
PROJECT 2 : PORTFOLIO

My portfolio website is a rich, interactive showcase of my skills in full-stack development, creative frontend design, UI/UX, and modern web experiences. It brings together my development projects, technical expertise, and creative work, while also featuring an integrated e-commerce experience for showcasing and selling my published book. Built to balance visual storytelling with functionality, the website reflects my ability to turn ideas into engaging digital products.

An interactive, motion-rich landing page crafted with dynamic animations, engaging visuals, and a polished interface for an immersive and memorable digital experience.

A rich book showcase combining immersive product presentation with an e-commerce experience, letting readers explore the book, view details, and purchase it seamlessly.



A rich frontend experience blending bold 2026-inspired design, fluid animations, immersive interactions, and creative visuals to deliver a modern, engaging digital experience.

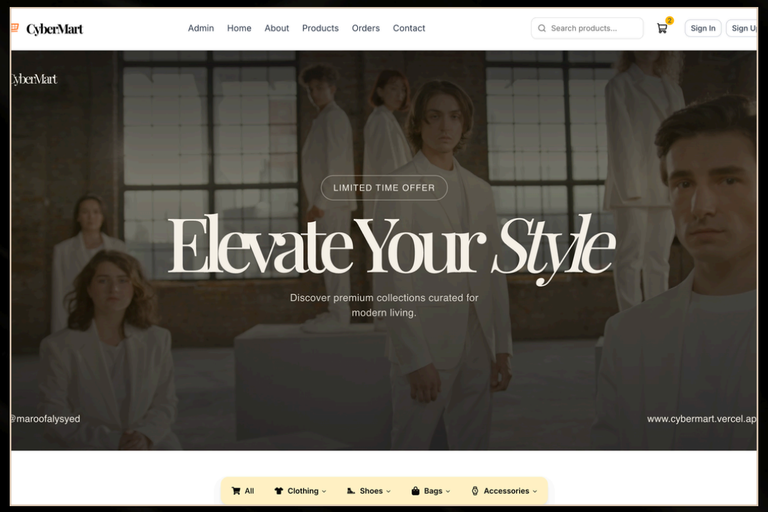
Experience Cybermart at : www.cybermart.vercel.app

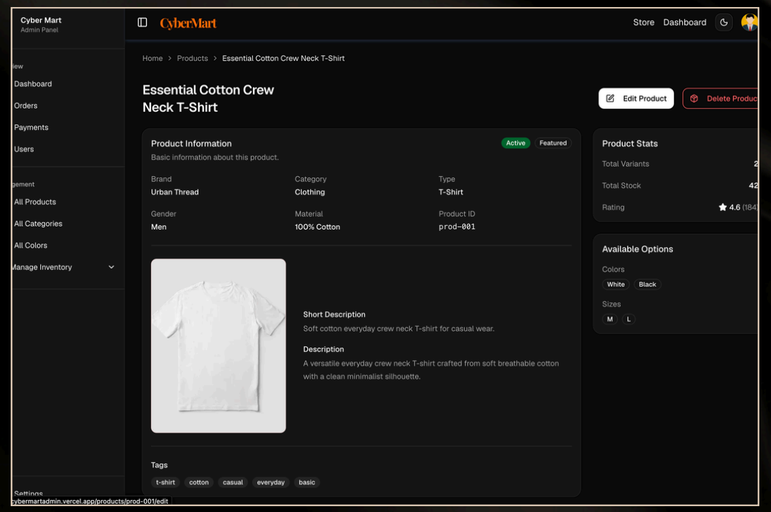
PROJECT 3 : CYBERMART

CyberMart is a full-stack e-commerce ecosystem built as two interconnected web applications: a customer-facing shopping platform and a dedicated vendor management system. Customers can browse products, manage carts, and complete purchases through an integrated checkout and payment flow, while vendors can manage products, inventory, orders, and business analytics. Together, both platforms showcase scalable architecture, intuitive UI/UX, and practical, business-focused e-commerce development.

A comprehensive vendor dashboard featuring real-time analytics, sales insights, order tracking, inventory management, and key business metrics in a polished interface.



An interactive e-commerce landing page combining product showcases, animations, and intuitive browsing, letting customers explore and discover products easily too.



A product management page for vendors to add, edit, organize, and manage products, including key details, price, inventory, and availability through one interface.
